GROUP PROJECT PART 1 (30%)

Designing, Developing and Demonstrating an Online Facilitated Storytelling Session

Assessment Type: Group Project
Group Size: 4 Members
Total Marks: 30 Marks (30%)
Commencement: Week 2
Submission Deadline: Sunday of Week 5
Submission Format: PDF Document and Edited Video Recording

1. Course Learning Outcome (CLO)

Demonstrate the ability to design, develop, and facilitate an engaging online storytelling session through effective story generation, narrative development, constructive alignment, and interactive online facilitation.

2. Assignment Overview

This group project requires students to collaboratively design, develop, and demonstrate one online facilitated storytelling session.

Working in a group of three (3), students must generate creative story ideas, evaluate and select an appropriate story concept, develop a comprehensive story structure, and establish constructive alignment between story events and the intended facilitation outcomes.

Each group member is required to take an active role in demonstrating online facilitation for approximately five (5) minutes. Each demonstration must incorporate at least TWO (2) different types of story events to engage participants and support the intended learning or facilitation outcomes.

The group must record all demonstration sessions, edit the recordings, and compile the pre-facilitation planning documents and video evidence into a complete submission.

The assignment emphasises creativity, collaboration, storytelling techniques, interactive engagement, and effective online facilitation.

3. Assignment Instructions and Requirements

Cover Page

The submission must include a cover page containing the following information:

1. Full Name (as registered with UNITAR)
2. Student Matriculation Number
3. Section Number
4. Mobile Number
5. Course Name and Course Code
6. Assignment Title: Designing, Developing and Demonstrating an Online Facilitated Storytelling Session
7. Group Members' Details

Formatting Requirements

- Font: Arial or Times New Roman
- Font Size: 12
- Line Spacing: 1.5
- Alignment: Justified
- Submission Format: PDF
- Video Format: MP4 or an accessible video link

4. Detailed Task Guidelines

Your group must complete the following six steps.

STEP 1: Generate Creative Story Ideas

Work collaboratively as a group to generate a range of creative story ideas for your online storytelling session.

Requirements:

- Generate multiple story ideas through brainstorming or other creative techniques.
- Ensure that the proposed stories are interesting, meaningful, and suitable for online facilitation.
- Consider the intended audience, storytelling purpose, and possible interactive opportunities.
- Document the brainstorming process and the ideas generated.

Deliverable:

- Evidence of story ideas generated.
- Brief explanation of the brainstorming process.
- List of proposed story ideas.

STEP 2: Evaluate and Select One Story Concept Sentence

Collectively evaluate the proposed story ideas and select ONE (1) creative story concept sentence for the final presentation.

Requirements:

- Develop clear concept sentences for the proposed story ideas.
- Evaluate the concepts based on creativity, relevance, originality, suitability, and potential for audience engagement.
- Select the most appropriate concept sentence.
- Provide a justification explaining why the selected concept is suitable for online storytelling and facilitation.

Deliverable:

- Evidence of story concept sentence evaluation.
- Final selected story concept sentence.
- Justification for the selected story concept.

STEP 3: Develop the Story Structure

Develop a complete story based on the selected concept sentence using the THREE-ACT STRUCTURE.

Your story must include:

1. Act 1: Setup - Introduce the characters, setting, background, and central situation or conflict.
2. Act 2: Confrontation - Develop the main conflict, challenges, complications, and significant story events.
3. Act 3: Resolution - Present the climax, resolution, and conclusion of the story.

Requirements:

- Ensure that the story has a logical sequence and coherent narrative progression.

- Develop interesting characters and meaningful events.
- Include opportunities for interaction and audience participation.
- Ensure that the story is appropriate for the intended audience and facilitation purpose.

Deliverable:

- Complete written story.
- Evidence of the three-act story structure.
- Description of the major story events.

STEP 4: Establish Constructive Alignment Between Story Events and Facilitation Outcomes

Establish constructive alignment between the narrative events, interactive events, and intended facilitation outcomes.

Requirements:

- Identify the intended outcomes of the storytelling session.
- Identify at least TWO (2) types of story events to be incorporated into the facilitation.
- Explain how each story event contributes to the intended outcomes.
- Demonstrate how participants will engage with the story through questions, discussions, decisions, problem-solving, or other interactive activities.
- Ensure that the facilitation activities support the purpose of the story.

Deliverable:

- Constructive alignment table.
- Explanation of how story events support the intended facilitation outcomes.

Suggested format:

Story Event	Type of Event	Interactive Facilitation Activity	Intended Outcome
Event 1	Narrative event	Introduce the situation and ask participants to identify the main problem.	Participants understand the central conflict.

Event 2	Interactive event	Invite participants to suggest possible solutions.	Participants demonstrate critical thinking and decision-making.
Event 3	Narrative event	Present the consequences of the characters' decisions.	Participants evaluate the outcomes of different decisions.

Note: The examples above are illustrative. Your group must develop original story events and activities.

STEP 5: Demonstrate Online Facilitation

Each group member must take turns demonstrating online facilitation based on the group's selected story.

Requirements:

- Each member must facilitate for approximately FIVE (5) minutes.
- Each member must demonstrate at least TWO (2) different types of story events during their facilitation segment.
- Demonstrate appropriate online communication and presentation techniques.
- Engage the audience through questions, discussions, interactive activities, or decision-making opportunities.
- Demonstrate effective transitions between story events.
- Ensure that each member has a meaningful and active facilitation role.

The demonstration should reflect the actual storytelling session rather than simply reading the prepared script.

Deliverable:

- Video recording of each group member's facilitation.
- Edited video compilation showing all members' demonstrations.
- Evidence of the story events and interactive facilitation activities.

STEP 6: Edit Videos and Compile All Relevant Documents

After completing the demonstrations, edit and compile the recordings and supporting documents into one organised submission.

Requirements:

- Combine all three members' facilitation recordings into one edited video.
- Ensure that each member's demonstration is clearly identifiable.
- Include appropriate introductions and transitions.
- Ensure that the audio and video are sufficiently clear.
- Organise all pre-facilitation documents in a logical sequence.
- Include evidence of story idea generation, concept sentence evaluation, story structure development, and constructive alignment.

Deliverable:

- One edited group demonstration video.
- Complete compilation of pre-facilitation documents.
- Final PDF report containing all relevant planning documents and supporting evidence.
- An accessible video link or MP4 file, as required by the lecturer.

5. Assessment Components and Marks Allocation

The assignment is assessed through TWO (2) major components.

Component A: Pre-Facilitation Work (15 Marks)

Assessment Criteria	Marks
1. Correct and effective story idea generation	4
2. Appropriate evaluation and selection of the concept sentence	4
3. Comprehensive development of the three-act story structure	4
4. Appropriate constructive alignment between story events and intended facilitation outcomes	3
Subtotal	15

Component B: Demonstration Recording and Documentation (15 Marks)

Assessment Criteria	Marks
5. Effective online facilitation	5

6. Efficient online facilitation	5
7. Complete compilation of pre-facilitation documents and demonstration evidence	5
Subtotal	15

TOTAL: 30 MARKS (30%)

6. Submission Checklist

Before submitting, ensure that your group has completed all the following requirements:

- Cover page with all group members' details.
- Evidence of story idea generation.
- Evidence of story concept sentence evaluation.
- Final selected story concept sentence.
- Complete three-act story structure.
- Constructive alignment table.
- Demonstration recording of Member 1 (approximately 5 minutes).
- Demonstration recording of Member 2 (approximately 5 minutes).
- Demonstration recording of Member 3 (approximately 5 minutes).
- At least two types of story events demonstrated by each member.
- Edited compilation of all demonstration recordings.
- Complete PDF report and supporting documentation.
- Accessible video link or MP4 recording.

Important: One (1) mark will be deducted for each missing required item, subject to the maximum marks allocated to the relevant assessment criterion. The same omission will not be penalised twice.

7. Final Submission

Once all the tasks have been completed, the group leader must submit the final PDF report and edited demonstration video through the designated learning management system by Sunday of Week 5.

All group members are responsible for contributing meaningfully to the planning, development, facilitation, recording, and documentation of the project.

Remember: This is a collaborative project. Marks will reflect the quality of the group's planning, storytelling design, constructive alignment, and online facilitation performance.

8. Assessment Rubrics (30 Marks)

The following rubric uses four performance levels to assess the quality of the group project. Each criterion is assessed independently.

Component A: Pre-Facilitation Work (15 Marks)

Assessment Criteria	Excellent	Good	Satisfactory	Needs Improvement
1. Story Idea Generation (4 marks)	4 marks - Generates multiple original, creative, relevant, and engaging story ideas. Demonstrates an effective brainstorming process and clear suitability for online facilitation.	3 marks - Generates relevant and creative story ideas with a reasonably effective brainstorming process.	2 marks - Generates basic story ideas but demonstrates limited creativity, variety, or relevance.	0–1 mark - Generates insufficient, unclear, or irrelevant story ideas with little evidence of brainstorming.
2. Evaluation and Selection of Concept Sentence (4 marks)	4 marks - Demonstrates comprehensive evaluation using appropriate criteria. Selects a compelling concept sentence and provides a convincing justification.	3 marks - Evaluates and selects an appropriate concept sentence with reasonable justification.	2 marks - Selects a concept sentence but provides limited evaluation or justification.	0–1 mark - Demonstrates weak evaluation, unclear selection, or an unsuitable concept sentence.

3. Three-Act Story Structure (4 marks)	4 marks - Develops a comprehensive, coherent, and engaging story with clearly connected setup, confrontation, and resolution.	3 marks - Develops a logical three-act story with appropriate narrative progression but some areas need improvement.	2 marks - Includes the three acts but demonstrates limited development, coherence, or narrative progression.	0–1 mark - Story structure is incomplete, poorly organised, or lacks a clear narrative sequence.
4. Constructive Alignment (3 marks)	3 marks - Establishes clear and meaningful alignment between story events, interactive activities, and intended facilitation outcomes.	2 marks - Demonstrates reasonable alignment between story events and intended outcomes, with minor gaps.	1 mark - Shows basic alignment but provides limited explanation of how events support the outcomes.	0 marks - Demonstrates no clear or appropriate alignment between story events and intended outcomes.
Subtotal	15 marks

Component B: Demonstration Recording and Documentation (15 Marks)

Assessment Criteria	Excellent	Good	Satisfactory	Needs Improvement
5. Effective Online Facilitation (5 marks)	5 marks - All members demonstrate confident, engaging, well-organised facilitation. Uses appropriate communication techniques, audience engagement, and at least two types of story	4 marks - Demonstrates effective facilitation with good communication and audience engagement. Minor weaknesses in interaction or delivery.	3 marks - Demonstrates basic facilitation but engagement, communication, or integration of story events is inconsistent.	0–2 marks - Demonstrates weak facilitation, limited audience engagement, poor communication, or insufficient demonstration of story events.

6. Efficient Online Facilitation (5 marks)	5 marks - Demonstrates excellent time management, smooth transitions, effective use of digital tools, and systematic delivery within the allocated time.	4 marks - Demonstrates good time management and organisation with minor interruptions or inefficiencies.	3 marks - Demonstrates acceptable delivery but experiences noticeable timing, coordination, or technical management difficulties.	0–2 marks - Demonstrates poor time management, disorganised delivery, or ineffective use of the online facilitation environment.
7. Compilation of Pre-Facilitation Documents and Demonstration Evidence (5 marks)	5 marks - Provides a complete, professionally organised compilation of all required planning documents, supporting evidence, and clearly edited demonstration recordings.	4 marks - Provides most required documents and recordings with good organisation and presentation. Minor omissions or editing weaknesses.	3 marks - Provides basic documentation and recordings but some evidence is incomplete, unclear, or poorly organised.	0–2 marks - Provides incomplete documentation, missing recordings, or poorly organised supporting evidence.
